English: Instructions
I can write instructions on how to wash a Woolly Mammoth. (10/10)

How to wash a woolly mammoth
What you will need:
- soap
- brush
- towel
- shampoo
- bathtub
- hose pipe
- sponge
- water

What to do:
1. Fill the bathtub quickly with warm water.
2. Add bubbles before he gets into the warm water.
3. Lift the woolly mammoth carefully into the bubbly warm water.
4. Scrub under his dirty, short tail carefully until there is no more speck of mud.
5. Rinse his fur until there is no soap left. Be careful you don't get soap in his eyes.
6. Dry him slowly around his body until there is no water on his fur.
7. Don't let him play again in the mud!

English: The Firework Maker's Daughter
I can write a mystery chapter. (10/10)

Unfortunately, Razvani lived a very miserable life because his parents died when he was only 8 and his house got taken away. If he had only his parents didn't died his life would not be miserable. He had to find a cave and he finally found a cave but it was a dark, cold thing.

When Razvani was a young smart firework maker he always burnt his self. Every second, after Razvani met the king Razvani became more mischievous, naughty and became a fire-finder.

Above the clouds, Razvani the mischievous lived in a damp dark cave. One day Razvani had a brilliant idea. He needed fire imps to keep him company and

The spindly, fragile, decrepit, old man cleared his throat and began to read the letter. Dear lucky finder, You have been chosen to come to a place where we cover it in chocolate and a miracle or two, who can take a rainbow. You will have a chance to taste a thunder late mellow bar which will make your tongue zap for days. A unicorn cloud will make your last breath as soft as a cloud. The melicious-scream-diddley-antlers bar will make your tongue watery for years. Brilliant description!

I am preparing other surprises that are even more mystical and more astonishing for all my wonderful golden ticket holders - amazing and interesting, wild and out of this world.

English
I can write my persuasive piece of writing.

I am writing to you because our oxygen supplies are being destroyed. Unless we act now, we may face harsh climate changes and it even might be impossible to live on planet Earth in the near future.

I am sure you are aware that all rainforests produce 40% of the planet's oxygen. In fact, the Amazon rainforest (the largest rainforest) produces half of all South America's oxygen. If the rainforests are destroyed, we will be destroyed too.

As I am sure you are aware, rainforests prevent the Earth becoming too hot to live on. Trees draw down carbon dioxide from the atmosphere through photosynthesis, locking away that greenhouse gas in leaves, trunks, roots and nearby soil therefore regulating the climate of

Enchantment Land

I can write a description of a theme park using a range of sentence openers.

As the moon rises, the dark-filled sky brightens up with colorful, bright lights. The place is alive with booming music, big screams, delicious food stalls and the massive rollercoasters.

Like a long skipping rope, the rides twist and turn through the fair. Thrilled and shocked, children race over to the Ghost train. A teenager waits through the massive queue for the Xmas wheel. He like chocolate, from a fresh box, the person disappeared to go on the Waltzer. The Kriskee spun back and forth. Quickly, the details booted the tickets.

The air smelled of candy floss, floss, popcorn and French fries. The food stalls sell like apple, ice cream, sweets, etc.

Wow! A fantastic description Poppy! You have made the theme park come alive. Excellent use of sentence openers (3/3)

Surviving in the Wild

I can write a survival guide.

Surviving in the wild
Rainforest shelters

Reckless rainforests. Quite a lot of atmospheres have hard challenges such as the wild rainforests. Exposure to extreme warmth can lead to lethargy, lack of energy/ extremely tired. Finding or creating shelters in this baking weather can lead to a bad ending. Read on for more guidance that may save your life.

I can write an alternative ending to a narrative.

leaving Gary to find a new walking stick, Bob the new, shiny house walked into a ^{peaceful} nice town and found a lumberyard. He offered him some wood and Bob left happily. On his way back to Gary, a dog house followed him. He decided to take it in. When he found Gary he carefully gave him the new walking stick. Gary was an old, crooked house, ^{opposite} to Bob. Bob, Gary and their new dog set off on their journey.

I can write an explanation.

How to do the Trapeze.

At PFL, there are many fun activities. There are some high up and some low down. Trapeze, which is very fun and scary, is a high up activity. So buckle your harness and get going.

Firstly, you need to put on your bottom harness and tighten it around your bum and thighs. Get your top harness (which is already connected to the Trapeze) and attach it to your other one to make sure it's safe.

Then ~~the~~, the instructor will say, "climb when ready", and you will say, "climbing", and then you can start when ready. As you climb, others will pull the rope to make the rope secure. When climbing, keep a tight grip on the staples (at the bottom
